ACTIVE PARTICIPATION WORKSHOP

13.03-17.03 in Göteborg, Sweden

Do you want to get an understanding of a democratic society and the concept of active citizenship?
Would you like to analyse your own role and understanding of participating in decision-making?
Do you wish to reflect on the needs of young people on becoming more active within their communities?

Then this activity is for you.

ORGANISER

This activity is organised by Nordisk Ungdomsorganisation (NordUng), with English translation Nordic Youth Organisation (NordYouth).

EVENT DESCRIPTION

This is a workshop to further understand what active participation means. We use non-formal education methods to:

- 1) discuss democracy, active citizenship, inclusion in our societies, peaceful community building
- 2) get a common understanding of active participation,
- 3) learn to analyse the needs of young people when it comes to active participation and relate it to your own communities, NGOs and societal structures,
- 4) produce text/video/audio material as NGO tools supporting young people to take first steps towards becoming more active participants in society.

PARTICIPANT PLACES

Participants should be young people interested in the content who are at least 20 years old.

NB! Priority is given to applicants under 30 years old.

NordYouth handles the applications until the places are filled.
